

Exercise 1.4.5

Consider a one-dimensional rod  $0 \leq x \leq L$  of known length and known constant thermal properties without sources. Suppose that the temperature is an unknown constant  $T$  at  $x = L$ . Determine  $T$  if we know (in the steady state) both the temperature and the heat flow at  $x = 0$ .